Forecast for Wednesday 29 Jun 2022

Weather: Clear or sunny intervals and a few showers, these becoming heavier in places during the day, with the outside chance of thunder over the mainland. The west coast and island ranges probably staying dry and bright. The showers will become fewer and further between from late afternoon with some longer sunny periods developing.

Chance of cloud-free hill tops above 800m: 60% at first rising more than 90% in the afternoon.

Low cloud and visibility: Some patchy cloud down to 750-900m or so overnight and in the morning especially over the south with poor visibility on the tops then cloud lifting mostly above the summits from late morning. Generally good visibility underneath but reducing to a few kilometres in any heavier showers. Mostly very good visibility from late afternoon.
